

Portfolio

1.1 Introduction

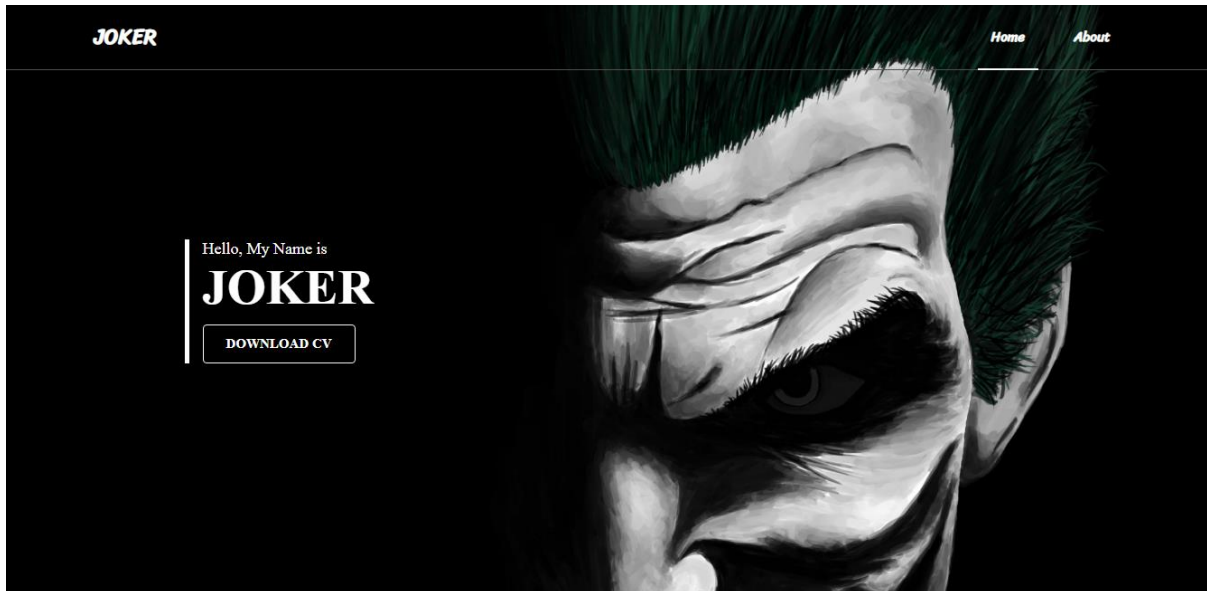

A portfolio is an organized, visual collection of a person's progress, achievements, and efforts that demonstrates his/her accomplishments. The collection is a marketing tool aimed at potential employers that includes work samples and personal feedback on them. Traditionally, students majoring in art, education, and writing use portfolios. Students with other majors are realizing that, in today's competitive job market, a creative and informative portfolio could be the key to setting you apart from other candidates.
